

Inside Out

Inside Out is a pixar animated movie about 5 characters that each represent an emotion, joy, sadness, disgust, anger, and fear. They travel through a girl name Riley's head controlling her emotions as she goes through life.

Sadness is my favorite character from the movie.

Shes my favorite because she like me. No, im not sad all the time but she makes funny jokes and isn't very optimistic. She sees the downsides to the situations first and is sarcastic about the positives.

When Bing Bong and Joy got trapped in the memory dump

Joy and Bing Bong, Riley's imaginary friend, got trapped in the memory dump, a place with fading memories and forgotten moments. They managed to get out and help joy get back to headquarters before Riley ran away too far“Get her to the moon for me. Okay?”
